Biography

Gert van Schalkwyk brings an impressive range of experience and qualifications spanning multiple industries. He holds a BDram degree from the University of Pretoria and has a background in both business and the performing arts.

He began his career in the entertainment industry as a model and quickly gained recognition. In 2005, he was named Fashion Face of Africa by FTV and rose to national prominence through leading roles in several high-profile advertising campaigns.

Campaigns for MTN, Wimpy, Klippiess & Cola (as the face of the brand), Coca-Cola, and Sun International made him a well-known figure on South African screens, while international ads for Utterly Butterly and Galaxy Chocolates introduced him to audiences in the US and UK.

He has also choreographed various events and boasts an extensive stage and theatre résumé. Notable productions include Wit Leuens en Swart Dade, Die Drie van der Walts (directed by Egoli's Bromley Cawood), Blomme en Bye, Ek...?, and Die Van Aardes van Grootoor by Pieter-Dirk Uys.

Gert played the role of Pierre Miller in the pilot episode of Flesh, a controversial series produced by Franz Marx Films and Space Grow Productions.

He made his debut in Egoli (Franz Marx Films) as Jacques, the charming pilot who captivated audiences with his playboy persona. He went on to portray Simon Bekker in 7de Laan (Danie Odendaal Productions) and Janneman Swanepoel in Villa Rosa (Spectro Productions).

He was also a television presenter on Tongelos, a celebrity news show on kykNET, where his natural on-screen presence and charisma truly shone.

In 2015, Gert was awarded Best Actor in a Short Film at the Göteborg Film Festival for his role as Dusk in Everything but the Sky.
